Experience #1530 - Duncan Trussell Acid Alex

An autobiography in the form of a novel, ACID ALEX chronicles Al Lovejoy's story of his life as a child in reform school, conscript, prisoner, international drug smuggler and addict. Al was born in 1963 in a "beautiful bitter country once called Rhodesia." He never knew who his parents were but to outward appearances, he was a white baby.

Acid Alex is a story of hideous child abuse, brutal institutions and wild rebellion. It veers between abject mistreatment, religious hysteria and narcotic intoxication, while journeying deep into the violent underworld of Cape Town gangs and international organized crime, then behind the cold bars of prison and out the other side.

That's if you credit everything you read – because Acid Alex is about an unhinged existence that practically beggars belief. It's a roller-coaster journey from orphanage to reformatory, from Pretoria Central Prison to Angola at war, and from there to Stellenbosch to witness the beginning of Voëlvry .

"Perfect summertime reading—preferably with a friend nearby who can be constantly interrupted with unsettling facts." —Daily Mail (UK) Benjamin Franklin was a pioneering scientist, leader of the Enlightenment, and a founding father of the United States. But perhaps less well known is that he was also the first person to use mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on an electric-shock victim. Odder still, it was actually mouth-to-beak resuscitation on a hen that he himself had shocked. Welcome to some of the weirdest and most wonderful experiments ever conducted in the name of science. Filled with stories of science gone strange, Electrified Sheep is packed with eccentric characters, irrational obsessions, and extreme experiments. Watch as scientists attempt to nuke the moon, wince at the doctor who performs a self-appendectomy, and catch the faint whiff of singed wool from an electrified sheep.
