It was Honda engineers who first decided to make a four-stroke jet ski, which allowed them to develop power up to 225 horsepower. In addition, manufacturers for many years engaged in the improvement of manufactured models and gradually increased not only their power, but also technical characteristics. Today, Honda is no longer engaged in the development and production of jet skis, but on the ...

Honda entered the PWC market at the wrong time. Just as the market was very slow for all manufacturers. The hull was for sure “old school technology” as Honda actually purchased a Sea-Doo hull design directly from Sea-Doo. However, it was a hull design that Sea-Doo never put into production. In addition to a weak engine that kept speeds in the low 50's and a turbocharged model running in ...
